

'Born Yesterday'

Photo by JOE MASSE

Stuart Pepper and Wende Gilmore rehearse a scene from the Cultural Park Theatre Company production of "Born Yesterday," by Garson Kanin and directed by Ron Bove. The play will open for seven performances Friday, March 30, at the Cultural Park Theatre. For information about the show, call the theater at 772-5862.

Boyd said.

"I would say going to a loca-

See COUNCIL, page 2A

Photo by JOE MASSE

'Born Yesterday'

Lawyer Ed Devery (Dean Dotson, seated) gets an earful from Billy Dawn (Wende Gilmore, right) while Harry Brock (Stuart Pepper) listens in exasperation during the performance of "Born Yesterday" Saturday at Cultural Park Theatre. The production is slated for four more performances this weekend.

S

figures: Miami-
largest rate of a grew

metro ation is Orlando
3 per-
),
orida's tion of ncrease
onville
sidents
than any

says if ou are on, the e said,

Better
manage improve-

lle has

ge 2A

Photo by VALARIE HARRING

More from 'Born Yesterday'

Harry Brock (Stuart Pepper) gets a close shave from Gerald Crepezzi and a manicure from Dayna Trinchera in Saturday night's sold-out performance of "Born Yesterday" at the Cultural Park Theatre.

(P) —
had a vie the-ed atop e with

a North through tribution
theater pts per number compiled
Relations
EDI Inc.
Miramax,
ocations,
million,

ou," Fox,
ocations,
llion, one

MGM,
ocations,
1 million,

ny, $6.4
s, $2.448
one week,
7.11.85.6